

FCJ Foundation

The Foundation now manages and runs schools in Europe, Australia and the U.S.

Today, many of our schools educate both girls and boys and our values and teaching continue to foster equal opportunities and academic excellence through a holistic education.

Additionally, the Foundation's international work has extended with FCJ communities supporting local projects from education and health to housing, helping those facing poverty and difficulties to advance in their lives. Women's development remains a key focus of this work.
